

Power Projects and Renewable Energy

Linowes and Blocher LLP attorneys represent utility companies and independent energy developers in the development, construction and expansion of power generating and transmission projects. Our lawyers have assisted power plant developers with real estate due diligence, land use entitlements, permitting, environmental compliance and approvals, easement acquisition and financing. Other types of work we can do for you:

- Regulatory approvals
- Business agreements
- Tax issues
- Environmental controls